Speech of Mr. Rhett-The Approaching Convention - The Difference between this and the Regularly Elected State Convention-Probable Action of the First; and the Contingencies which will shape out the Action of the Latter, Decisive of Union or Disunton, &c.

The city papers of this morning, contain at large the speech of Mr. Rhett, (of the U. S. Senate,) a a meeting of the Charleston Southern Rights Association, on the 7th inst. There can be no misunderstanding the drift, the arguments, and the tendencies of that speech. It is for secession, and for the separate State action of South Carolina, without waiting any longer to dilly-dally for the support of the other Southern States. He gives them port of the other Southern States. He gives them up, and pleads the duty, the necessity, the great advantages to South Carolina, of separate State jetion, exactly in accordance with the views which se have already furnished you as those of the most active of the leading politicians of the State.

As the time for the meeting of the Convention of the Southern Rights Association approaches, however, we are satisfied that we percuive some gleams of daylight breaking through the surrounding gloom. Here and there, some man, recoiling from the dread alternative of disunion, ventures to express his doubts of the expedience of immediate secrees his doubts of the expedience of immediate sethe dread alternative of disunion, ventures to express his doubts of the expediency of immediate secession, in the Charleston Courier, and it is something of an improvement upon the late unanimous sentiment of indignation at the bare idea of submission, that a citizen of Charleston, in a Charleston newspaper, under an anonymous signature, can venture to confront the general feeling for accession with arguments against it. The Courier is for the Union, and against secession; but the policy—the business policy of the paper—has kept it silent on the subject of secession. It publishes the speech of Mr. Rheit without a word of comment; and you may take that fact as pretty significant of public sentiment in Charleston. And when we repeat that this speech of Mr. Rhett was received with some such enthusiasm as that of the whigs of New York in receiving Henry Clay, the most skeptical Northerner must allow, that in all this there is something more than smoke and empty gaseon ade.

But still, us the convention asympaches, there are

But still, as the convention approaches, there are But still, as the convention approaches, there are some glimmerings of daylight. Here and there a voice comes out opposed to immediate secession, and the merchants of Charleston, (and merchanteverywhere are segacious and intelligent men.) appear to be generally satisfied that this convention will not recommend immediate separate State action; and it isfurther believed, that if action is postpored, there will be a way of escape opened to the State so as to save her separation and her domestic institutions, without going out of the Union at all. The mercantile interest of Charleston—especially those directly interested in Northern houses—believe, or affect to believe, this, and that good counsels and the "sober second thought" will, when the trial comes, be predominant and triumphant.

The forthcoming convention will do much to de-The forthcoming convention will do much to determine the future policy to be adopted. It has no authority to set. It is a mere internal assembling of the Southern Rights Associations of the State, in a mass meeting in this city, by invitation of the city association, for the purpose of consulting together, as deliberating upon the two questions of direct and separate secession, or dolay, with the view of securing the co-operation of one or more of the other cotton States in the movement. We suspect that the proceedings of this informal convention will be, in fact, virtually conclusive of the policy of the State.

lessee of the Chemut street theatre, suce for a balance of rent of that building, as well as for damages during the auction sale of tickets on her first visit to this city. The theatre was engaged for two nights, but it was thrown up after the first concert, in consequence of all the stock-holders claiming free admission during the concerts. The person taking the subpects in the first place not being able to see Miss Lind, the Sheriff sent for her, and she was taken in a carriage to the office, much agitated and greatly annoyed. In reply te a question from Quinlan's counsel, as to her share of the profits, she said she received $1000 out of every $0000 of the gross receipts.

Intelligence from South America. INTERESTING FROM THE BRAZILIAN EMPIRE, AND THE Our advices from Rio Janeiro are to the 17th of March, Babia 19th, and Pernambuco 22d, and from Montevides to the 2d of the same month. The annexed is from OUR FRAZIL CORRESPONDENT.

Rio Janeiro, March 12, 1851. The most important news from this part of the world, is a mission of the Brazilian Government to all the re-publies of of the Pacific; but, for the present, nothing has transpired in regard to it, and only known by the sailing, on board the American steamer Monumental City on the 6th in-tent, for the Pacific, of Mr. D. P. Ribeiro, as Envoy Extraordinary in special mission near all the republics of the Pacific, with one secretary and two attaches.

The steamer Tay, the second of the British line of steam packets, arrived here on the 11th from Southampton, via Lisbon, Madeira, Teneriffe, St. Vincent, Pernambuco, and Bahia, in 28 days, bringing $506,000 in gold specie; and Bahia, in 28 days, bringing $506,000 in gold specie; and the corvette Calliope, with more of the yellows, is daily expected. There is an arrangement between this govern-ment and that of England, by which English newspapers pay nothing in Brazil, and Brazilian newspapers nothing in England, when so sail by the steamers. During the month of February, 1851, 117,259 bags of coffee were exported, against 50,847 in February, 1850. The Custom House revenue and consulado was, in February, 1851, 1,248 contos, against 515 in February, 1859.

coffee were exported, against 50.847 in February, 1800.

The Custom Home revenue and consulation was, in February, 1801, 1238 centos, against 915 in February, 1800.

A new hank has been established, under the name of the Bank of Commerce and Industry, with a capital of $5.000.000, and all the stock taken.

Government has contracted a loan of $2.000.000, at $6, since which stocks have gone up to 884-87.

The naval division, ready to sail for River de la Plate, under Commodore Grenfell, is composed of one frigate, nive corvettes, and four steamers.

Lately, a great many slaves have been taken on the coast by the Brazilian cruisers, and brought to this port. In reality, a stop is to be put to this unlawful trade.

There is a great want of good mechanics here. A new spirit of enterprise porvades the people, guided by the present cabinet, which, for a wonder, has been in power far two years and a hair.

Land is cheap, and foreigners enjoy the same prerogatives as natives; and, in case of death, their property passes to their relatives in law; and here property passes to their relatives in law; and here property is equally divided between children of both sexes, and only the father or mother, by their death, can dispose of their third as they piesse.

NEWSTATER ACCOUNTS.

The question of ponce or war between Brazil and Gen. Rossa would shortly be put to the text, the Brazilian government having nearly completed the preparations for hostilities. A squairon, consisting of one frigate (lag ship.) five crivettes and four steamers, was to proceed on the 26th of March, under the command of Admiral Grenfell, to the Ever Plate, there to make a demonetration. The moment was said to be flavorable to Brazil, in consequence of the existing misuaderstanding between hosting margines of the interpression had caused a rise of nearly two per cent ix the public funds.

The government continued actively engaged in endeavors to suppress the slave trade. Most of the wealthist persons engaged in this traffic have either abandoned it or ha receipt of the intelligence already noted on the 7th, business was generally suspended; the subsequent sales barely amount to 8.000 bags, and prices may be quoted at a decline, since the 6th, in superior, of fully 250 reis, and of 100 reis in first good and first ordinary. If inquiry continue for the United States, an improvement in quotations may be expected, for, in consequence of the impassable state of the roads, supplies will, in all probability, he retarded during the next fortnight. The extent of the crop has not however, been over-estimated though, from the cause stated supplies will be later at market. Of the rales effected, 20.000 bags for the United States, 14.000 for the Baltimore, 466 Genoa, 5.008 Hamburgh, 10.191 Marseilles, 15.226 New Orleans, 1,639 New York, 2,439 St. Petersburgh—in all 46.079 bags. Freights—The arrival of several vessels, the high prices which rule for, and a limited supply of, coffee, have tended to render the market less bueyant. The few charters effected have been at our quotations.

Planameter, March 21.—In sugars supplies have been abundant, and stocks are large. Since the Tay's arrival, little has been done for Europe, although much of the duliness of this market is to be attributed to the want of vessels. Browns are worth from 1,500 to 1,600 per arroba, or 14s. 7d. to 15s. 6d. per cwt. free on board, ex freight and cemmission; whites, 1,700 to 2,600, according to quality, or 17s. to 24s. 10d. per cwt. Shipments to Europe of the present crop have been to this date 19,600 tons, to the United States, 4,700 tons, to other ports, 2,450 tens—total, 25,750 tons. In freights, the last rates have been 5ss. to the Channel for orders, and a port in Great Britain, 57s. 6d. to the Continent, 50s. to Trieste, 90s. to Valparaiso, and 80c. per bag to the United States. At present we are bare of shipping, and next arrivals will obtain an improvement upon the above rates.

Will obtain an improvement upon the above rates.

Freehet in South Carolina—The Rick Chor.—On Saturday last, we had quite a severe gale from the northesst, which brought in the highest tide we have heard of this spring, doing some damage to the rice field banks in the neighborhood. We were on the Santee last week, and regret to ray that the freshet still covers many of the plantations high up the river. It is a matter of serious inconvenience to the plantars. Whilst many low down are nearly done planting, those above cannot see their land. The delay will be injurious. On the Pee Dee we believe they have too much water for their use.—Georgetown (S. C.) Observer, April 30.

The Reyal Society of Northern Antiquaries of Copenhagan, at a meeting in that city on the 15th of February, at which the King of Denmark presided, elected Cel. W. W. S. Bliss, of the U. S. Army an honorary member of that Society.

ELIZAR J. Remark. Esq., late a State Senator in the Legislature of Michigan, from the Lake Superior district, died at his residence in Detroit, on the 30th April, after a sheat iliness, of congestion of the lungs. Mr. Roberts, who bore the military title of General in Michigan, was formerly well known in this city, but has resided at the West for the last twenty years. He was a practical printer, and for a considerable time one of the editorial profession. About the time the anti-masonic excitement broke cut in this State, in consequence of the abduction of Morgan, at Batavia, Roberts was associated with the late Mordecai M. Noah, and, we think, he printed either the New York National Advocate or the Enquirer papers, which Noah published. After leaving the old National Advocate, about 1825 or 1826, a personal quarrei took place between Roberts and Noah, which ended, as will be remembered by many of our politicians, in a personal remounter, in the entrance to the Park Theater; but there was not much harm done. Mr. Roberts atterwards went to Rochester, and published a paper called The Craftman. in defence of the masonic institution, he being a zealous mason. He afterwards, we believe, resided in Buff the and Pittsburgh, and took an active part in politics. He was esteemed at the West, atthough not known as such here, as an accomplished and influential political writer. In 1834 or 25 he removed to Michigan, and (says the Berioti Tribene) up to the time of his death had filled many important pests of honor and trust, both by executive appointment and election by the people—holding consecutively the office of Joint Commissioner with the late Mr. Harrington, in the revision of the first State statutes of Michigan; Clerk of the House of Representatives; Adjutant General and Quarternsster General of Michigap, under Governor Barry; Assistant Mineral Agent in the Upper Feninsula, appointed by Mr. Polk; Procecuting Attorney for the cumuly of Houghton; a member of the House from that district; a delegate to the recent State convention to frame a constitution; and, at the time of bits death. a Senator from the Upper Peninsula, Gentral Roberts was always too much alive to those generous foolings of the heart to hoard up wealth—possessing an unbounded generosity and a manly impulse that won for him through life warm and lasting friends. Gen. Roberts was about sixty four years of age, and has left a large click of ratifives and friends to mourn his loss and a constitution; when successful dents in sustaining their interests in the legislative halis of the State.

On the 4th in f Morgan, at Batavia, Roberts was associated with the late Mordecai M. Noah, and, we think, he printed either the TESTIMONY FROM HIGH AUTHORITY.—[FROM I the editor of the N.Y. Mirror, Aug. 9, 1843.]—Perfect Gure and no mistake.—We are about to write a voluntary statement of a cure recently effected by Or. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which the editor of this paper is willing to give under his own signature. We make it pro bono publice, as we have never seen the proprietor of this invaluable medicine, and know mothing at all about him. About four weeks since, one of the compesitors in this effice was suffering se badly from a cough, that he was unable to sleep at nights, and toe weak to stand at his case. He became very pale and thin, and gave symptoms of falling a victim to quick consumption. We recommended to him various medicinas which had no effect. Finally, we gave him one bettie of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry; it afforded him immediate relief, and he is new a well man, gaining in flesh, with a roudy complexion, and not the slightest symptom of a cough. These are facts, and further particulars may be learned at this office. We should said that the cough was accompanied by profuse spitting of blood. Look out for imitatious and counterfoits. Remember, the original and only genuine article bears the writtes signature of I Butte upon the outside wrapper.
